"This is far and away the best book about group psychotherapy.... Yalom writes fluently, knowledgeably, and with clarity and uncommon good sense."

Irvin D. Yalom, M.D., is professor emeritus of psychiatry at the Stanford University School of Medicine. He was the recipient of the 1974 Edward Strecker Award and the 1979 Foundation's Fund Prize in Psychiatry. He is the author of When Nietzsche Wept (winner of the 1993 Commonwealth Club gold medal for fiction), Love's Executioner, Every Day Gets a Little Closer (with Ginny Elkin), and the classic textbooks Inpatient Group Psychotherapy and Existential Psychotherapy. Molyn Leszcz, M.D., F.R.C.P.(c) is head of the Program in Psychotherapy at the University of Toronto.

Another great book for students and those in the field.

Great Book! Love the real life case / client stories.

I'm reading this book for a master's psychology class and it is quite interesting. However, the vocabulary often kills it. If you are asked to purchase for class then just rent it b/c personally I will read it once but that's it.

Yalom is genius! Great book for anyone studying in the helping fields.

The most important book any IMF or ASW should read, even if it isn't included in your studies, you should include it in your studies. Irvin Yalom is a brilliant psychotherapist, and this book will support your ideas of both individual and group therapy practice.

Arrived on time and new quality.

Yalom is one of those writers that knows he has great things to say, but he is going to make you tread through a ton of rambling to get there. There are gems to be mined here; just have a highlighter ready. Also, there is a ton of self promotion here: Yes, we get it Mr. Yalom you wrote other books ya don't have to tell us 6 times per chapter. Overall a necessary read if you plan on facilitating group therapy, as Yalom is the authority in this field. My advice: edit this thing down!

Dear Sirs: I love the book but it is thirty years old. I wish Dr. Yalom would revise the book before he cannot any more. With all due respect; Wolfgang M. Schwanzenweintraub.
