Erin is the founder and director of Hope Mommies, and author of Anchored. She is a graduate from the University of North Texas. After the death of her firstborn Gwendolyn, just 36 hours after she was born in 2010, Erin Cushman founded Hope Mommies, a Christian non-profit that serves women that have experienced miscarriage, stillbirth, or infant loss. Erin and her husband live in Texas with Gwendolyn's two younger siblings.

This is a good bible study. It helped me through a tough time and helped me to grow closer in my walk with Christ.

This book was very biblical! We really liked the format. Also, fast delivery from this seller and arrived in excellent condition.

Got this for a friend when she was going through a difficult time; she stated it was helpful!

A help in time of need. A real blessing for my wife during a hard trial in our life.

This book has been such a blessing to me. It's so wonderful to have so many relatable stories to read, it has helped me feel less alone. Writing responses to all of the questions has helped me process my loss, and I have so enjoyed how everything is tied to scripture. I'm so sorry if you have a reason to read this book, but I definitely recommend it if you have lost a baby.

After receiving this book for my Hope Boxes from Hope Mommies, I felt led to order my sister one. She loved the book. So much that she started a small group with it at our church. Highly recommend for anyone suffering with this type of loss.

Since walking through the loss of two of our children during pregnancy, I have read countless books on grief and infant loss. There is something comforting about hearing someone else's story, knowing that they have been through the same heartache as you have, and yet seeing the faithfulness of God displayed so clearly in their lives. "Anchored" not only provides stories of other women who have experienced the loss of a child, but invites the reader to search out the very heart of God as is revealed through His Word. Each chapter is filled with Scripture to reflect on as you allow your heart to be open to how God desires to speak to you and carry you through your sorrow. This is a resource and a ministry that I will continue to give the highest recommendation for. If you or someone you know has experienced pregnancy or infant loss grab a copy of this book. Not only will you be armed with truth to sustain you as you continue to navigate the layers of loss on the road ahead, but as you allow God's Word to pour over every ache of your heart, you will find yourself anchored to the glorious and eternal hope that can only be found in Him!

I am so thankful that Erin wrote this devotional. It has been a really good resource to help me in the loss of our three babies. I am so thankful for people like Erin who take on this kind of project. I cannot imagine that it was easy for her to do, but I am so thankful she obeyed God pushing her. She did a fantastic job. Thank you, Erin.
