"God Does Not Roll Dice." Albert Einstein Born on May 15, 1949 in Amsterdam, the Netherlands, Hans Decoz has been a student of numerology since 1969, when he discovered an old and rather worn out book on the ancient spiritual science in a secondhand book shop in Amsterdam. For many years, he experimented with the tools of numerology, reading and studying everything he could find on the subject. Hans traveled throughout Europe and Asia in search of more understanding and knowledge of the different forms and techniques used in numerology. He used it to better understand his friends or acquaintances, for example, or to interpret various events on the universal as well as the personal plane. Only after he had overcome his intense skepticism was he able to see the practice as yet another example of the ultimate unity, integrity, and wholeness of the universe. In 1982, Hans began practicing numerology professionally in Houston, Texas. By then, he had a deep understanding-- both of the science, as well as what it suggested about life itself. Soon he had a burgeoning practice, rich with the many strata of Houston's population -- from the hardworking housewife and laborer to the wealthiest of Houston's business elite. Ever since he was a child, Hans demonstrated advanced abilities in mathematics and art. He loved to figure out complex mathematical problems and, once completed, put aside such work for hours at his easel where he produced drawings and paintings. These abilities eventually led to fascination with computers, for which he also had a special talent. Now he wanted to combine these native abilities with his understanding of numerology. He also wanted to make that understanding more widely available. In 1985, inspiration struck and Hans developed the renowned computer software program known as the DecozChart. That program proved to be revolutionary. It was the first (and to this day it is the only) numerology chart-maker program capable of producing a complete numerology chart that included fifty years of forecasting cycles. The chart itself -- a beautifully designed layout -- was placed on a single page, visually capturing the many cycles and changes each person goes through in any 50-year period. Following the chart-maker software program, Hans started working on a computer program that would produce a complete numerology report for individuals. After two years of writing, Hans called on his friend Tom Monte to help edit the data base of text files; together they devoted four years to the creation of a numerology program that provided people with complete personality profiles and future forecasts. Until then, no one had created a program capable of calculating a person's complete numerology chart, and then producing a unique report that described the meaning of each of the person's most important numbers. It is true that some small, rudimentary programs existed, but this was the first program that could produce an in-depth, personal reading that consisted of 25 pages or more. As everyone knows who has received their own personal reading, those numerology reports are written with incredible insight, compassion, and understanding of life. Hans Decoz currently resides in Galveston, Texas. He lectures and offers courses and personal consultations. Hans is currently working on his second book. His first book: Numerology; Key To Your Inner Self with Tom Monte, was published in 1994 by Avery Publishing Group, NY. The book has since been translated in several languages, including Russian, German, Turkish, and Dutch. Tom Monte Tom Monte is a professional writer, having written more than 15 books, including the best-sellers Recalled by Life and Living Well Naturally, both with Dr. Anthony Sattilaro. Tom's work has been published in numerous leading magazines and newspapers throughout the United States and Europe. He resides in Amherst, Massachusetts.

This has so much interesting and good to know info. It covers much more, than I had expected. There are facts about not only life path numbers, but your name and how it equates to numbers, karma debt numbers and even the effect of changing your name & more. When I have time I am going to do the calculations. Looks like it will be fun and telling!

Numerology is a delightful field, filled with more interests and adventures than there is room here to express, and Hans Decoz's works have been my guide and treasure of effective tools for over 35 years. His instructions and teachings have never failed to give me good guidance in making choices, many decisions, and even giving me a deeper sense of hope and faith in the present and future. This rich treasure of blessings have overflowed from my Heart's Coffers into the fields, thoughts, lives of many seekers and students of metaphysics, occultism, and spiritual understanding. This latest book is helpful, and its size is useful . . . but, for me, from my perspective, I prefer the two volume more complete and more fully detailed work that Master Numerologist did in the 1980's. Thanks be to the Powers that Be I managed to get two sets of the older work, and keep on for daily use. HOWEVER, this does not mean that this latest smaller work is not useful and very helpful. I encourage all earnest seekers and students of Numerology and related fields to get it and enjoy it. Mr. Decoz does not fail to instruct, educate, illuminate, and encourage us all. In fact, truth be told, the size of this book is perfect for my personal prayer corner use. The Larger Work given by Mr. Decoz can be a wee bit large and this smaller version is helpful in the smaller work spaces. The size does not compromise the teaching, instructions, and wisdom of Hans Decoz directions and guidance.

This was in very good condition, save $4 off new and it's just like new book, has the best information and descriptions about numerology

I am new to numerology. I rather accidentally stumbled across it and checked it out online. Hans Decoz had great reviews all over the web. Now, having used Hans Decoz's website quite a bit (and having downloaded his free software) I have learned a lot and enjoy how much my numbers reflect who I am (it's not vague, one description fits all stuff) - not to mention the numbers in my address (perfect for me) and my phone number (not so good) and how compatible certain people are with me. I decided to buy the book, thinking to learn more. However, I found that everything in the book is already on the website. The good news is that it's at my fingertips whenever I want it, without having to turn on my computer or dial up (yes, no DSL in my area, yet!). I love being able to mark some pages that I refer to often. If you're new to numerology, or just curious, or want everything to be able to be located easily, I highly recommend this book. It's easy to understand and, don't be surprised if you discover more about yourself than you realized.

As expected. But content confusing to me.

Nice Product.

I've only read a few chapters of this. I already have my numbers from an iPhone APP so going to the right chapter was easy. Decoz has a great Numerology software program that being a Mac user frustrates me that I can't use since it's Windows only. Hopefully someday I can have a PC alongside my Mac and use the program. He really knows his stuff!

There is a pattern to all things in the World. And numerology helps us to see some of the patterns in both the world and ourselves. This book is easy to read, provides simple techniques for doing the numbers for yourself and provides great info for learning new things about yourself and others.

Thank you Decoz.
